So far from this, we consider it a subject of deep and thrilling interest to all the human family. All are journeying swiftly through time, and are bound to eternity; all are lovers of life and happiness; all are looking forward with inexpressible anxiety to the unexplored regions of futurity. The Jew, in view of death and eternity, is comforted with the expectation of rising from the dead, with all the chosen race - of being clothed again with flesh, and restored again to that land which was given to them and their fathers, for an everlasting inheritance; while David takes his seat in the holy city, and reigns over the twelve tribes for ever and ever. Many modern Christians, in view of hereafter, comfort themselves with the hope of a spiritual existence in a world far distant from their native earth, and far beyond the bounds of time and space - where spirits mingle in eternal joy and everlasting song. And, although the body should rise from the dead, yet they suppose that the whole will become spirit unconnected with matter, and soar away to worlds on high, free from all the elements of which their nature was composed in this life; and thus enjoy eternal life and...
