Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Investigation of the Scientific and Economic Relations of the Sorghum Sugar Industry The sorghum question referred by the Commissioner of Agriculture to the National Academy of Sciences for investigation and report, means undoubtedly, in the sense in which it now chiefly interests cultivators, the sugar-producing value of the sorghum. The questions relating to the value of sorghum for food for men or animals, of its use as forage, or for the manufacture of spirits, glucose, beer, and vinegar, c., are all subordinate to the sugar-producing value of the plant. For more than a quarter of a century sirup has been made from sorghum, over a wide range of country in the United States, both north and south, and for a time it was confidently believed that sorghum culture would assume great importance as a source of cane-sugar. Many efforts were made to establish this industry in various places as a part of the domestic work of the farm. These attempts were rarely other than disappointments. Occasionally, here and there, good crude sugar was made, and...
